

Quality Policy Statement

The Kelston Sparkes Group is committed to implementing appropriate quality management systems and processes to enable the delivery of products and services to the highest practicable quality.

The overall quality objective for The Kelston Sparkes Group is to deliver a consistently high level of service throughout the scope of its business activities.

A quality management system has been developed to provide the framework for continual improvement and increasing customer satisfaction and the satisfaction of other interested parties. The quality management system provides the company and its customers with the confidence that the provision of service and products will be delivered consistently to predetermined high standards.

We all share the responsibility for the delivery of high quality products and services and for continual improvement. Long term relationships require on-going commitment to achieving business excellence.

Signed:

Alan Sparkes

Managing Director

07/03/2017